Kennedy - Macmillan Talks Move Smoothly

By MERRIMAN SMITH
HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—President Kennedy's review of world problems with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan seemed to be progressing smoothly today despite recent differences that have cropped up between the United States and Britain.

U.S. officials were pleased that as a result of Thursday's talks the British had acknowledged publicly that the recent Soviet nuclear test series had showed evidence of considerable progress in the nuclear weapons field.

This had been the evaluation of American scientists. It will bear on whether the United States or Britain or both resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

The two statesmen did not go into the question of resuming Anglo-American tests but confined themselves to what White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger called an evaluation of the facts.

Meet Five Hours
Macmillan and Kennedy conferred for five hours Thursday after the President arrived from Palm Beach where his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, is seriously ill with a stroke.

Besides nuclear testing they also explored the problems of the Congo and Berlin. They planned to resume today on the Congo and get into the question of India's takeover of Goa.

Spokesmen for both sides said Thursday night that so far the two world leaders were in "complete agreement," although this did not necessarily mean a sudden adjustment of any policy differences.

FIVE-DAY DEADLINE ON CONGO-KATANGA PEACE

Terms Reached; Good Faith by Tshombe Asked

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, (UPI) — Premier Cyrille Adoula today warned Katanga President Moise Tshombe he had five days in which to prove his good faith and honor the agreement to end Katanga secession that he signed at Kitona Thursday or face the use of force.

Adoula said at a news conference the Central government "will be obliged to apply force" if Tshombe backs down. He made it clear that he was not willing to meet Tshombe again for new talks.

In London, the Foreign Office announced that Britain has ordered its representatives in Elisabethville and Leopoldville to promote implementation of the agreement.

(In New York, U.N. Undersecretary Dr. Ralph Bunche, just returned from a fact-finding visit to the Congo, said he expects Tshombe to live up to the terms of the agreement. However, he added that "international agreements have been violated ever since there was an international community. It could happen again.")

Water Plan Faces Court Test

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court has been asked to rule on the legal validity of the state's huge water plan, the most ambitious construction project ever undertaken by a single state.

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California asked the court Thursday to hear a test case on the validity of the MWD's contract for 1.5 million acre-feet of water a year from Northern California.

The Supreme Court's decision, if it agrees to take jurisdiction in the case, could determine the fate of the plan which is to be financed by $1.75 billion in bonds approved by the state's voters last year.

The MWD's contract with the state was the first to be signed and will also be the largest. It will serve as a model for all other contracts between the state and local agencies for Feather River water to be made available by a huge system of dams and aqueducts.

James J. Marquardt, executive secretary of the MWD, laid the foundation for the test when he refused to transmit to state officials a written request for the capacity MWD will need in the proposed aqueduct system.

He based his refusal on the contention that the MWD's contract with the state is invalid because the bond act itself is invalid.

The matter was brought before the Supreme Court by Charles C. Cooper Jr., general counsel for the MWD. He filed a petition asking for a writ of mandate ordering Marquardt to carry out the terms of the contract.

Cooper's petition asked the court to take original jurisdiction in the case, thus avoiding delays in bringing the case up through lower courts.

Blizzard-Like Weather Hits

By United Press International

Blizzard-like weather ushered in the first full day of winter in the northern plains today and icy cold bit deep into Dixie, adding to the misery of Mississippi flood victims.

Fog shrouded southern California for the second straight day, reducing visibility to zero at some points.

Light snow peppered a belt from Michigan into New England. A new polar air mass pushed across the Canadian border, dropping temperatures from the Mississippi River westward.

A snow-laden Pacific cold front clashed with Arctic air over Montana, bringing snow, sleet and gale force winds. Roads were closed when wind gusts made standing impossible. Three construction workers were seriously injured when a wind gust hit steel panels they were using to erect a building at the Clark Canyon Dam project. Buses were running hours behind schedule.

Blowing and drifting snow blanketed the Dakotas and extended south to Kansas and Colorado. Wind gusts to 62 miles an hour hammered Denver's Stapleton Airport, overturning two light planes. A Texas woman was hurt when the plane in which she was riding flipped over on the runway. The wind shredded utilities lines, cutting off power in one section.

North of the border in the Canadian provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan a full scale blizzard was under way and temperatures were expected to drop to 20 degrees below zero in its wake. Below freezing cold cut deep into Georgia and temperatures in the 30s were reported in northern Florida.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Rita Moreno was cited Friday for driving without a license in her possession.

The onetime girl friend of actor Marlon Brando was stopped along with 2,100 other motorists at a pre-holiday safety check point set up by the California Highway Patrol.

BURBANK (UPI) — Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight was to be released from the hospital today to spend Christmas at home. Knight, a candidate for the Republican nomination for California governor, was hospitalized weeks ago following an attack of hepatitis, a liver ailment.

STANFORD (UPI) — Otis Chandler, 34, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, has been elected to the Stanford University Board of Trustees.

Chandler will be the youngest of the university's three trustees. He replaces Edward R. Valentine, a Los Angeles businessman who retired from the board to limit his activities to Stanford's PACE plan for action in a challenging era fund-raising program.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Convicted income tax evader Mickey Cohen Friday asked the District Court of Appeal to prohibit his trial on a murder charge for the 1959 slaying of Jack (The Enforcer) Whalen.

Attorney A. L. Wirin of the American Civil Liberties Union appeared in court to petition for a writ of prohibition against trial of Cohen, who was free on bail from Alcatraz when indicted by the county grand jury for murder.

Ike Says He Won't Talk For Nixon

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he "wouldn't have a word to say" in Richard Nixon's primary campaign for the California gubernatorial nomination.

"I'm not sure an outsider should come into a state and campaign," the former president said on his arrival at this desert resort for an extended winter vacation.

But he added, "I like Dick Nixon and admire him and would be disposed to do anything he wanted. Until the nomination I wouldn't have a word to say. Then Dick will be the boss."

Previously Nixon told friends he did not anticipate asking Eisenhower to come to the state to campaign. However, he expressed full appreciation of Eisenhower's support.

Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie, arrived at Eldorado Country Club Thursday with their granddaughter, Mary Jane, who was celebrating her sixth birthday. They traveled from their Gettysburg, Pa., home by train to nearby San Bernardino and drove to the country club, adjacent to another well known resort, Palm Springs.

Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, his wife and the two other Eisenhower grandchildren joined the former First Family here Thursday night. They flew here for the holidays by private plane after arriving on a scheduled flight at International Airport in Los Angeles.

The former chief executive told newsmen on his arrival that he planned to vacation here at least three months and would play golf about every day. He grinned and added, "I might take one day a week off."

The Eisenhowers are staying at a $175,000 golf club course cottage. Eisenhower's bedroom overlooks the 11th fairway.

Ike Enjoys First Golf Game at Eldorado Club

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, playing his first round of golf yesterday since arriving here for a three months vacation, played in a foursome that posted two fine scores.

Two professionals, Walter Burkemo and Helen DeWittier along with Freeman Goshen played in the foursome with Eisenhower at the Eldorado Country Club.

Burkemo posted a 69 while the lady pro, playing from the men's tee carded a 76 score.

The two Eldorado pros mentioned that Ike played exceptionally well and carded a good score. Th Former President remarked upon his arrival to the desert that he expects to play a great deal of golf while vacationing with his family here.

The jetliner had stopped at Rome, Athens and Istanbul before landing at Ankara. The plane, on a service flight for Cyprus Airways, was to have flown to Cyprus and then to Tel Aviv.

The jetliner took off from Esenboga Airport, 18 miles outside the capital, shortly before midnight. Two minutes later, airport authorities said, the plane crashed and exploded.

Snow was falling at the time, hampering rescue efforts. Visibility was about 1.2 miles.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to lose altitude only 300 yards off the ground and plunged to earth.

All the crewmembers — three Britons and four Cypriots — were among the victims, BEA officials said.

British Air Crash Kills 27 in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — A British European Airways Comet IV-B jetliner en route to Tel Aviv, Israel, crashed and exploded in a snowstorm seconds after takeoff Thursday night, killing 27 of the 34 persons aboard.

The dead included four and possibly five Americans. Four Americans, an Israeli diplomat and two other men survived. All except the Israeli were being treated at an Ankara hospital.

The airline here identified the American dead and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Miller, Miss Patricia Reape, and Miss Laure Hatton. It said a Miss Veronica Gabriel, who survived the crash but died shortly afterwards, also was possibly an American. There were no home addresses available.

All seven members of the crew also were killed.

A spokesman said the plane, the latest and completely brand new version of the ill-fated Comet I, reached an altitude of about 300 feet before it slid to its left and struck the ground.

Four of the seven survivors were Americans who boarded the plane at Istanbul. They were identified as Joseph Goldman, 45, and his wife, Ruth, also 45; of Roslyn Heights, L.I., N.Y.; Doris May Freudenberg, 32, of 67 West Etnette St., Bethlehem, Pa.; and Arnold Holtzman, 26 (address unknown).

It's Warm And Hotels Are Filling

Warming clear skies promised a full Christmas weekend in this resort area today.

C. C. Means, executive secretary of the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association reported today that last-minute long-distance calls are coming in with hotel reservations today, with indications that most Palm Springs hotels will be "well booked."

"It looks like a crowded weekend," Means said, adding that "the weather helped a lot."

Festive decorations and some traditional Christmas singing were scheduled as city highlights today. Approximately a dozen members of the Boys' Club of Palm Springs will tour the Village from 6:30 to 9 p.m. today, singing Christmas carols. They will be chauffeured and led by Ray Lockwood, Boys' Club director.

Break for Shoppers Saturday

Last minute Christmas shoppers will get a break Saturday in downtown Palm Springs.

Local Boy Scout Troop 199 will have its members on hand at three strategic locations to assist gift-laden shoppers. The Scouts will be stationed near Bullock's, Robinson's and Palm Springs Department and Hardware to be of assistance.

Scouting representative Emmett J. Connors, who made the announcement of the service, reports that no charge will be accepted for the assistance. "Absolutely no charge," he emphasized, "except a smile, an appreciative thank you, and a 'Merry Christmas.'"

The general tension in the city has been sharply increased by the escape of several thousand Baluba tribesmen from their camp outside the city.

Kennedy Father Better; Now Speaks Few Words

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston visited President Kennedy's father today and said the partly paralyzed stroke victim had spoken a few words to him and seemed "very much improved."

The Roman Catholic prelate's report on ailing former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, 73, was the most optimistic since Kennedy was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital here Tuesday. It also was the best word so far that Kennedy is recovering his speech after the stroke paralyzed his right side.

"I said, 'My dear friend, Ambassador, keep up your courage, we're all praying for you. You're going to be all right,'" the cardinal said.

Kennedy looked up at him at these words Cushing said, and replied, "I know I am."

Cushing said he admonished Kennedy to say no more lest he tire himself, and smilingly told newsmen in the hospital lobby, "He looks better than I do."

The cake was decorated with 34 candles and topped by a sunburst motif symbolizing the sunny weather invariably waiting for the former president on his desert visits. The 34 candles honored Eisenhower as our 34th president.

Last-Minute Suggestion: Get a Free Pet for Him

A last minute Christmas gift suggestion — especially for children or adults — was given to Palm Springs area residents today by the Humane Society of Palm Springs, 395 E. Sunny Dunes Road.

"We have lots of puppies—and older dogs, too—as well as cuddly kittens that would delight any child," Mrs. Betty Wilkie reported.

The humane shelter has wagging-tailed puppies in all sizes, colores, and breeds, and cats ranging from playful fuzzy kittens to queenly adult Persians. One new arrival at the shelter, awaiting adoption by a Palm Springs area family, is a purebred silky terrier dog. The 11-month-old female is spayed and a seasoned household pet, Mrs. Wilkie said.

"In this happy season of giving, a healthy pet is a natural gift for any child. The affection and loyalty of a suitable dog adds a lot of joy to a child's life."

November Living Cost Dips Some

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Living costs dipped slightly in November as the average factory worker's take home pay and buying power climbed to record peaks, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's consumer price index fell by one-tenth of 1 per cent, standing at 128.3 per cent of the base period 1947-49. Lower costs for some foods, women's clothing and used cars contributed to the decline.

A further small drop in prices was forecast in December by Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics. He predicted additional declines in food, gasoline and used car prices.

"It seems certain that we will wind up 1961 with unusual stability so far as prices are concerned," Myers said.

He said the November to November increase in consumer prices was seven-tenths of 1 per cent, the smallest rise in any similar 12-month period since 1955.

Getting Clean, Got Cleaned For $250

Jay Itchon, 285 N. Indian Avenue, was cleaned twice at the same time last night, Palm Springs police reported today.

Itchon told officers he was taking a shower at 10:15 p.m. when he heard a door open, but didn't think it was his own room. When he got out of the shower to dress at 10:30 p.m., he found he was $250 poorer.

Someone had taken two $100 bills and one $50 bill from a wallet in his trousers, Itchon reported. He added he had left his door room unlocked while he showered.

Trees Stolen

Palm Springs police have frowned on some Christmas spirit.

Gary Lee Summers, 22, and Richard Lee Hall, 21, both of 554 Calle Roca here, were apprehended late Thursday on charges of taking Christmas trees from a sales lot at South Palm Canyon Drive and Baristo Road. The men were booked on petty charges.

PS Warning System Get Addition, Needs More

A north-south strip of this resort town, three and a half miles in length and approximately a mile in east-west width, is now covered with civil defense siren warnings.

Police Chief A. G. Kettmann, operational chief of local defense, reported.

The final plug in the siren warning system was made when a seven horsepower siren, formerly installed on the old police and fire station building and since reconditioned, was lifted into place on fire station one, 277 N. Indian Avenue.

War Strip

"The strip coverage by siren is comparable to the Palm Springs at the end of World War II," Kettmann said. He explained that coverage in the eastern portions of the city would probably require installation of four additional sirens.

These sirens, plus one each at Palm Canyon Drive and Via Escuela in the north end, and the 1700 block of South Palm Canyon Drive in the south, would give the city coverage of a 70 decibel rating, Kettmann and Lt. Ted Greene said.

"This sound level would be sufficient to penetrate into homes over the sounds of appliances, or exterior traffic noises," Kettmann said.

Kettmann, heading the city Civil Defense operations and district seven of the county, including North Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Thousand Palms and Whitewater, termed civil defense planning here "advanced for the county and state. We have been quiet about it, but well ahead of most areas."

Study of civil defense applications for school sites will be renewed by the district board in the Jan. 11 meeting. Board member Everett Ball asked reconsideration of joint school-Civil Defense applications on the new section 11 junior high school site.

Funds Available

His pleas for study of civil defense problems had been repulsed by other board members until he pointed out in an adjourned meeting Wednesday that federal matching funds would be available for such "joint usage."

Installation of an underground gymnasium - shelter had been tentatively proposed during the Wednesday meeting. The gymnasium had been deleted from planning because of costs, but could be revived if half the costs were repaid to the district for joint use planning.

The Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks will begin an area survey in early January, to inspect possible shelter areas. A total of 18 such areas, mostly in basements, had been surveyed by the Palm Springs police department.

Holiday Traveler Sees Crowd, Fog

By United Press International
Homeward bound servicemen swelled Christmas holiday travel to a possible record level today and bad weather in some areas created new demands on the nation's already strained commercial transport systems.

Bing Crosby Hospitalized In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Singer Bing Crosby was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital early today with what his doctor called a case of stomach flu.

His wife, Kathy spent the night on a couch at his bedside.

Dr. Ralph Soto-Hall, who admitted the famous actor-singer, said he simply has stomach flu. He said Crosby would be seen by various doctors throughout the day, but that there was no way of telling how long he would be hospitalized.

Hospital Administrator Sister Agnes said Crosby was admitted at 12:15 a.m.

He told a hospital orderly helping him to his room that he had never had such stomach pains before, the sister said. She called his condition "gastritis," but added she did not "think it is serious."

Crosby and his wife were in the Bay Area for a round of pre-Christmas parties.

One of Australia's largest ranches covers an area greater than the state of Maryland.

Scores of thousands of soldiers, sailors and airmen began homeward treks Thursday, hampered on the West Coast by fog which closed Los Angeles' International Airport and delayed flights out of San Francisco's Hamilton Field.

Traffic enforcement officials across the nation began girding for the outpouring of motorists expected by this evening. The National Safety Council estimated 500 persons would die on the country's highways between 6 p.m. today and midnight Monday.

Camps Nearly Empty
All 22,000 men stationed at the Army's Fort Polk, La., were given holiday leave. Hundreds of buses were called into service to take 9,000 men from Fort Ord, Calif., to their homes.

Fort Carson, Colo., officials said that "virtually all" soldiers who requested leave received it and extra train coaches, airline flights and 30 more buses were brought in to expedite the holiday evacuation.

At Fort Benning, Ga., 12,000 soldiers left for home and at Fort Jackson, S.C., 13,000 more were to board 150 chartered buses and three special trains today. Great Lakes Naval Training Station, near Chicago, planned to complete release of 16,000 sailors today.

Twenty thousand men were given leave at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Fort Dix, N.J., planned to release 10,000 soldiers Saturday.

Fort Bragg, N.C., gave leave to 15,000 men.

The Marine Corps authorized leave for half its personnel in two 10-day segments.

Vatican Broadcasts Pope Peace Message to World

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Powerful radio transmitters broadcast the Christmas peace message of Pope John XXIII to the world today in 30 languages, including Russian.

The Vatican Radio, in relays with other transmitters of the free world, broadcast almost continuous translations and reports of the traditional Yuletide address of the 80-year-old pontiff.

The Pope's 3,000-word message appealed to rulers of nations to renounce the use of force, lest they trigger a world holocaust.

"Shun all thought of force," he said. "Think of the tragedy of initiating a chain reaction of acts, decisions, resentments that could erupt into rash and irreparable deeds."

The Pope broadcast the message in Italian Thursday night from his private library.

A crucifix lay on the table before him as he read through silver-rimmed glasses from a manuscript typed in large characters.

DMV Duns Will Beat Yule Bills

Even before the Christmas bills come in, Villagers along with automobile owners all over California will be getting duns from the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Registration renewal statements go into the mail next Tuesday. Validation of the slips will start a week later, on Jan. 2, 1962.

Deadline for validations is Feb. 4 after which there will be a penalty for those who put it off too long.

Offices of the DMV and other special offices in banks, automobile clubs and associations will be open to accommodate the motoring public. The statements next week will go to eight million auto owners in California.

Recommend Zone Change

The city planning commission has recommended approval of the application by Richard Brown Arenas and Edmond Peter Silva for a change of zone from R-1a, single family residence, to "T," trailer, for lands on South Palm Canyon.

The land, a portion of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 26, front on the east side of South Palm Canyon Drive, north of the extension of Laverne Way.

The recommendation for approval included conditions, including a 35-foot deep green belt, plus a wall. Other specified improvements are street, curbs, gutters, and sidewalk.

The James E. Dyer lot split in the Venable tract was tabled pending decisions on road design for the area.

Other approvals included a change of zone from R-1a to R-2 limited multiple family resident, for Dorothy Blackman, at 145 Mesquite Avenue; architectural approval of the Sam Pascal building in the 500 block of South Palm Canyon Drive; and the proposed John Williams building at Sunny Dunes Road and Eugene Road.

U.N. Bond Plan Hit by Byrd

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Harry F. Byrd of the Senate Finance Committee today rejected the United Nations' proposal to solve its Congo and other financing problems with a $200 million bond issue.

The Virginia Democrat, just back from a Far East tour, told United Press International he feared the United States would "end up paying for the U. N.'s other expenses and the bonds, too."

Byrd's views on financial matters carry weight in Congress because he heads the Senate's tax-writing, debt-reviewing committee. His committee also will handle the reciprocal trade and medical aid bills—big issues of the next session.

Some other legislators, mainly Republicans, have challenged the wisdom of the proposed U.N. bond issue. Byrd said he saw "no point" in it. Sens. John Sparkman, D-Ala., and Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., both members of the Foreign Relations Committee, have endorsed the bond issue plan.

In a telephone interview from his Virginia home, Byrd noted that the Soviet Union and some other U.N. members have refused to pay their share of the U.N. assessment for the Congo military operation.

"If they don't pay anything else, why should they pay for bonds?" he asked.

Bob Hope in Roaring Yule Show Start

ARGENTINA, Newfoundland (UPI)—Comedian Bob Hope got off to a roaring start in his annual overseas Christmas entertainment for American GIs today with a repeat performance to make sure all the servicemen here could see the show.

Hope planned to squeeze in a morning show before flying on to another U.S. Base, Harmon Field, Stephenville, Newfoundland, because all of the servicemen here could not fit in the base's gymnasium for the initial program Thursday night.

But the 4,000 GIs who did jam into the gym to see the comedian's show shortly after his arrival here roared their appreciation.

Hope is traveling with a troupe of 61 persons, including Jayne Mansfield, Jerry Colonna, Dorothy Provine, Anita Bryant and Rosemarie Frankland of England.

If you've been missing the fun at Chi Chi this week, you still have this weekend to enjoy those long time favorites Patti Moore and Ben Lessy and that gay deceiver Dr. (the-hand-is-quicker-than-the-eye) Giovanni.

If you are a Moore and Lessy fan, you know all about that "Dance for Mommy" routine, and his dexterity in tossing popcorn and bear-like dancing. They are subtler than the usual run of night club comedians, and they are the kind that keep you coming back night after night, and year after year just for the pleasure of watching their performance.

The red leather and copper-lined Pub Room out at the San Jacinto Country Club was the scene of some fast and furious pickpocketing the other day at lunch with an array of wallets, watches, golf tees and balls all vanishing but the police weren't needed for it was just that clever Dr. Giovanni who had gone out for a round of golf and chat with old friend pro Ron Nicols.

There'll be something very new in the entertainment right after the holidays when the Naughty Nineties Room at the Ranch Club will become the scene of Thursday night Twist sessions, with that handsome tennis pro Bill Davis as the instructor. Guess maybe there is a connection between a

Celluloid Revolution Has Finally Hit the British

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The celluloid revolution, ignited in France and Italy 15 years ago, finally has reached England and shows signs of spreading to Hollywood.

It is a revolt against actors. Europeans decided long ago that the presence of a star in the cast was no assurance a film would be worth seeing. To the contrary, frequently it meant a second rate production.

Audiences abroad discovered the secret to good pictures are the directors who have now become "stars." Today the list includes France's H. G. Clouzot and Louis Truffaut; Sweden's Ingmar Bergman; Italy's Federico Fellini and Vittorio de Sica; and England's Sir Carol Reed and David Lean.

Newest member of this select group is Jack Clayton, who is more outspoken about actors than a dozen Hollywood directors.

He says: "A star is a talented or untalented actor who has become successful. He is nothing more than that. Nothing less."

Director's Medium

The 40-year-old Englishman takes the point of view that movies are indeed a director's medium, and that actors are there to express the director's ideas.

Novack Pipes Up

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Kim Novack, currently starring in Columbia's "The Notorious Landlady," thinks pipe smokers make the worst dates.

"A man with a pipe in his mouth is about as romantic as a love affair with exploding tear gas," says Kim.

"The only dictatorship I approve is that of the director on the set," he went on. "The actors must obey the director and respect his discipline. In some cases the only way to handle a performer is to convince him that most of what goes into a film is his idea."

He achieved surprising success with his first movie, but it was a pip—"Room at the Top," which won many international awards for excellence.

Instead of capitalizing on his enormously successful debut, Clayton did not make another picture for two years.

One-Shot Fluke?
This led to speculation that perhaps "Room at the Top" was a one-shot fluke. To dispel the notion Clayton, a balding, scholarly man, took his time about directing his second feature film.

"Those two years were spent looking for a property to meet my requirements," he said. "And I found the right story in 'The Innocents,' which is as different from 'Room at the Top' as it can possibly be."

"If I had thought the first picture was a fluke I'd have chosen a safe, easy film for my second try."

"But I care about my work and chose as difficult a subject as I could find. There are only four characters in the entire picture—and two ghosts. It is set 100 years ago and requires trick performances. Believe me, there was nothing easy about it."

The cult of director worshipers holds great hopes for Clayton whose future depends a great deal on "The Innocents."

"I have confidence in the picture," Clayton concluded. "I think it will prove 'Room at the Top' was not a lucky mistake."

Skelton Plays Santa Claus

BEL AIR, Calif. (UPI)—Fifteen firemen today were thanking a red-haired "Santa Claus" for stuffing $500 checks in their Christmas stockings—which in this case turned out to be fire helmets.

The Santa was comedian Red Skelton.

He placed a $500 check in each of 15 helmets belonging to studio firemen who helped save his half-million-dollar home during the devastating Bel Air blaze Nov. 6.

He named the group who rushed to his home the day of the fire, "Skelton's Volunteers."

The firemen used equipment from a studio lot and water from the Skelton swimming pool to fight the fire.

Friday the 13th a Lucky Day for Museum Curator

By GENE JOHNSON

PALM DESERT — Paula Garrison Munson took over the post of curator at the Desert Gallery here on a Friday the 13th, and it proved to be her lucky day. She still glows as she talks about her new work in the desert.

A long-time resident and enthusiast for the ocean and beach, Mrs. Munson has already grown a great attachment to the desert since her job appointment here last October. "I thoroughly enjoy the desert," she says, and she is impressed with the friendliness of the people here.

Desert Like Sea

"I can see some of the same patterns and effects on the desert as I could on the sea," she enthused. Mrs. Munson reports that her horizons have broadened — both in her new position as curator, and as a desert spectator. "The horizons on the desert are even more vast than the sea," she said, and she has been watching the ocean with an artist's eye long enough to know whereof she speaks.

Using only her first name "Paula," she is known as a pioneer in the field of seadrift sculpture, the name she took for her art. She has roamed the beaches of the entire west coast picking up driftwood which is used as the base for her art. It was a display

Stanford in Drug Cost Slashing

PALO ALTO (UPI)—Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital has developed a way to save on the cost of prescription drugs through a revision of pricing and purchasing methods.

Dr. Windsor Cutting, former dean of Stanford's Medical School and now professor of experimental therapeutics there, said the new system calls for prescribing drugs by their chemical rather than trade name.

This method enables the purchase of large quantities of the drug from one manufacturer rather than supplies of drugs from various manufacturers.

There are about 150,000 separately named drug products available in this country, but only 5,000 actually different drugs, according to Stanford Hospital Pharmacist John Oliver.

Oliver was largely responsible for working out the other part of the system, the formula for basing prescription fees on the complexity involved in compounding it, rather than on a flat percentage of the drug cost, Cutting said.

The fee is low for simple prescriptions and higher for ones that must be compounded from several drugs, according to the new method, which Stanford spokesmen said was unique in the country.

of her work at the gallery here which led her to her current tenure as curator. Her popular exhibit was displayed last year.

A Purist

She does no carving in her work, she related — "I guess I'm a purist" — but it's a creation in design of textures and forms. Her work is often embellished with pastels and charcoal, however, as she creates her striking effects—often greatly enhanced by dramatic lighting. The medium now is loaded with devotees, and while she has had no time recently to work with it, she hopes to turn to desert — instead of seashore—"prospecting" in the not too far distant future.

Since taking over the curator role, she hesitates to display her own work. "I don't think it's the can see her work locally, however, as it is on display through the month of December at the Shadow Mountain Club in a show sponsored by the Palette Club there.

Whistler's Grandniece

Mrs. Munson was born into an artistic family. Her grand-uncle was James McNeil Whistler, most famous for his portrait of "Mother," and one of America's greatest painters.

After graduation from high school in Long Beach, Mrs. Munson went on to take art courses at the University of Southern California, the noted Chouinard Institute thing to take advantage of the situation," she says. Art fans tute in Los Angeles and the Cornish School of Applied Arts in Seat-

le. Following successful careers as a designer and consultant for some of the leading garment manufacturers in sports and night-wear—she even designed for her own company, Paula Loungjowns — Mrs. Munson turned to seadrift sculpture seven years ago.

Now, seven major shows and many one-man shows later, she is on the desert.

In discussing the transition from driftwood and beach relics (such as shells, bits of iron, etc.), to one of desert bleached woods and relics, she contemplates the similarities and contrasts of both — sculpted as they are by nature's divergent forces — water, wind and sun.

"The lines of the relics found on the beach are more peaceful, I think," she said. "The wave action must give them a smoothness that the wind and sun cannot achieve on the desert."

Her favorite ocean haunt is Cannon Beach, Ore., where she first became interested in the medium. She still owns property there and plans on developing a 40 - home development project on 1,500 feet of some of the state's most beautiful beach.

That's far from her mind, now, however — and even proposed desert hunts are a ways off. Taking most of her time at present is the Gallery. She said she finds it thrilling to work with the top artists who are displayed there.

"We have representations of the best artists working on the great Southwest scene," Mks. Munson said. She proceeded to tick off an imposing list of just those currently on display or with shows scheduled. Names like John Hilton, James Swinnerton, Bill Bender, Wilfred Zarnes, Burt Proctor, Olaf Weighorst, and Ted DeGrazia.

Getting a new show under way every three weeks, planning the Sunday teas, arranging displays and taking care of the many duties has kept her busy. She is even thinking about next season when the entire Gallery will be done over. Closing date is far off — May 15—but looking ahead in art is part of her make-up.

After all, the driftwood sculpture caught on pretty well.

WORKMEN START on the first step in an ultimate $200,000 project of new facilities at Temple Isaiah — Jewish Community Center on West Alejo. Work underway now is for a 100-car parking lot, but buildings are also included in the long-range program.

100-CAR CAPACITY

Temple Parking Lot Begun

Work has started on the new parking lot for Temple Isaiah.

Jewish Community Center on ground contiguous to the present buildings on West Alejo Road. The parking lot will accommodate more than 100 cars, and will go a long way toward solving the problem presented heretofore when large meetings have been held.

It is the first step in the program of development made possible by the current effort to raise $200,000 for new facilities.

The campaign, in its fifth week, already shows indications that the new educational center building is assured. This has been needed for a long time, and will at long last provide adequate school facilities for the children, according to Chairman A. L. Levin.

Versatile Structure

Among other items high on the priority list are a youth activities center. The structure planned will be versatile to accommodate the many cultural, recreational and social activities of the youth of the community.

It is also planned to air-condition the sanctuary and other buildings with monies raised in this campaign.

"I have every confidence that the full $200,000 can and will be raised — all that is necessary is for members and friends to be seen — results to date are amazing. It is of vital importance to the community that all the facilities be built, and soon," said Chairman Levin.

Working with Levin are chairman of special gifts, Lew Levy, captains, Sigmund Ehrens, Herman Finerman, Herkert Haas, Zachary Pitts and Frank Schaffell; Treasurer Jack Schumer; associate treasurer, Rose Levinson; and publicity chairman, Mrs. Louis Dubin.

NEWEST DRIVE-IN in the desert resort area is the Koko at 67-871 Highway owned by David H. Davis, a Palm Springs resident the last four years. This Cathedral City store was completed by contractor D. F. Miller. It opened earlier this month with Stanley Bart, recently of Sage's in Redlands, as manager and chef.

Holidays Slow Building

The approaching Christmas season slowed down building operations in Palm Springs for the week and the total reported by Jack Sanders, city building inspector, was $94,650.

Two dwellings and two swimming pools were listed in the 17 permits. The City of Palm Springs was issued an $11,000 permit for addition to the Polo Grounds baseball park to provide a larger seating capacity when the Los Angeles American League Angels train here in the spring.

The Palm Desert area topped the week's building in the Desert Area with a total of $253,990 issued by the county building department. Permits included four dwellings and three duplex and apartment structures.

Permits in the Palm City area totalled $5,813 for the week and in Cathedral City three dwellings and two pools featured the week's total of $54,690, in new construction.

Centuries before Columbus reached the New World, Indian tribes over most of North America were cultivating pumpkins and squash.

Key Club Plans Jan. 1 Opening

Scheduled to open about Jan. 1, the new Key Club in Palm Springs' historic B-Bar-H Ranch, famed "happiness highway," brings to the area an exclusive desert resort where members can enjoy desert relaxation and the club's facilities for desert recreation, officials of Key Industries Co. Inc., announced.

Ten miles, and only a matter of minutes from downtown Palm Springs, this famous landmark, now under new management and new ownership, is maintained for the exclusive use of Key Club members, and contains 21 decorator appointed suites. Designed for comfortable ranch-type living, many have open fireplaces and all are built with field stone walls and full-tile roofs. The clubhouse includes a festive dining room, a cocktail lounge, lobby and a combination ballroom - recreation room.

Although there is a great deal to interest those who want only to "laze," the Key Club provides a full calendar of events and recreational facilities. In addition to the swimming pool and tennis courts, there is a fine stable of horses and a nine-hole golf course encompassing 17 acres and complete with water hazard.

Situated at a 1,285 foot elevation, the smog-free playland offers 23 landscaped acres of club grounds plus 240 acres of beautiful desert terrain.

Among the many activities are skeet shoots and rabbit hunts, fire rings and group sings, barbecues and picnics, rides of exploration by burro pack, on horseback or by station wagon, shuffle board, croquet, archery.

The Key Club is close to Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Joshua Tree Monument and many other scenic desert attractions. It is located four miles east of the Twentynine Palms - Dillon Road intersection.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A study made for the U.S. Commerce Department points to changes in the family spending patterns during the next decade. The main forecast: families probably will be spending proportionately more for housing, household operations, medical care education and recreation. A smaller percentage of income, according to the estimate will be spent for clothing, new and used cars and public transportation.

THINGS LOOK ROUGH but the new home for The Desert Sun today was rapidly nearing completion and Builder S. M. Pascal said more than 50 men under 10 different contractors or service firms were on the job. Electrical workers may be seen at right center installing the high tension power required to drive the big new press. Center left framing into which the glass front will go is visible in the building. In the foreground water and gas connections are being completed. Also on hand Thursday were engineers for a paving firm that will quickly remove all those rocks and smooth down a big parking area. (Desert Sun Photo)

Investors Get Protection

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — New regulations went into effect today to protect California investors in land development projects. The state Division of Real Estate said Wednesday hereafter the purchaser must sign a notice that he has read a copy of public reports which show availability of water, power and streets in subdivisions. Subdividers also must submit copies of the reports to all advertising media offering sales in land development. Lorne B. Pratt, president of the California Association of Land Developers, said the new regulations are "unfair." He said he planned to seek an opinion immediately from State Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk as to whether the Division may be allowed to express its own opinion in the reports.

Poinsettias Glow Again

At Christmastide, here in Southern California, we gloat over the profusion of decorative, luxuriant poinsettias, deep red and an enchanting pink. There is also a white poinsettia but the supply is very meager. Let the colder climates enjoy their holly and mistletoe. For many years charming Ruth Hardy, owner of Ingleside Inn, made the point of gathering the stalks of the poinsettias, tying them in bundles of 12, and distributing them to those who wanted them. This year her poinsettias have fallen away but, in our opinion, they will be back again in all their glory.

Decorating church altars, scenes of the birth of Christ and the manger, stores, restaurants, hotel lobbies, homes and other structures, the Poinsettias gives us at least a feeling of Christmas despite the absence of snow-covered roads, ear muffs and galoshes.

There are many suggestions on how to treat poinsettias after cutting them for decorative purposes, we have found many of these suggestions to prove ineffective, such as waxing the ends immediately after cutting, burning the stalk ends, etc. Professionals cut the stalk to the desired length and quickly plunge them into boiling water to cover three to four inches deep, allowing three minutes immersion. Some of them use a long, narrow trough which has a timer. The plants are pushed along to the end of the trough then taken out, a process which consumes exactly three minutes.

Beware: Winds Coming

If the winds follow their customary course between now and the end of April we hope all gardeners have secured each tree or shrub so that only slight damage would be the result. Trees that lose all their foliage about this time have little to worry about but trees that carry their foliage all year round are liable to break.

Now that we are deep in the growth of lawns — rye seed grown — we should again emphasize the importance of irrigation. Bear in mind that most of the tender roots of newly planted lawns are still very near the surface of the soil. Apart from chewing enemies and the daily sun at this time of the year, we have strong, dry winds to contend with — winds that are the worst enemy where irrigation is concerned.

Dampen Soil

It must be borne in mind that there may not be sufficient density of growth to retain the moisture and return it to the soil. You might on a test, find the soil damp at five to eight inches. This can be helpful but, more important as far as lawns are concerned, those top three inches should be kept damp.

As the months go by and the lawn mowers are kept busy you may find some bare patches showing up. If you blame it on poor soil or even soil insects the blame is yours; it might be insufficient fertilizing or lack of insecticides. It might even be lack of irrigation.

—T.G.M. with Merry Christmas to all.

Christmas trees can go right on being useful after the holidays, through organized community action. Collected and packed into eroded gullies, they are effective in stopping loss of soil.

Lien Filed on Holiday Inn Construction

INDIO — A mechanics lien was filed in Superior Court here Wednesday for payment of labor and materials in the recent construction of the plush Palm Springs Holiday Inn.

The Indio Paint and Rug company filed the action to get payment of $2,483.19 in principal for the work plus seven per cent interest per annum and $10 in filing fees. Named in the lien was the Holiday Inn, the M. Z. Collins construction company, Jack and Madeline Sargent, the Yeamans Co., California Federal Savings and Loan, and five John Does.

Request Denied On Street Name

A request by Palm Springs Panorama that the name of Vista Chino as it extends easterly from the city of Palm Springs be changed to Vista Panorama Drive has been denied by the board of supervisors.

"The commission found that the street has long been known as Vista Chino," said Planning Director Tyler Suess, "and that to change the name would be confusing to the public."

Indians Chop Down Arabs, 54-37

Victory returned to the Palm Springs Indians in their second game of the Banning Christmas Basketball tourney as they peppered Coachella, 54-37 to move into the semi-finals of the consolation bracket.

The Tribe encountered little difficulty in sinking its DVL rival Coachella Valley in the opening contest yesterday as their 1-2 punch, Tyron Taylor and Mark Edwards scored in double figures. Taylor accounted for 10 tallies in the first half and finished with 18 points for high game honors. Edwards recorded all but six of his total points in the second half and collected a total of 16 markers. Seven other Indians scored points with Carlos Reyes and Mike Clements being next in scoring with five each.

Palm Springs outscored Coachella, 48-28, in field goals with the Indians scoring six points from the charity line while the losers pumped in nine free throws. Coachella held the Tribe to a 14-9 first quarter advantage but in the second stanza the Indians moved out in front, 29-13. Each team hit for 18 in the third period and the home town boys outscored the Arabs 7-6 in the final quarter. The Tribes' outburst in the second quarter proved to be the deciding and winning factor.

Coach George Hertzke substituted freely and his entire bench played and each scored. Steve Gottlieb had a good day in the back court and again delivered an outstanding job on rebounding.

Palm Springs and Savanna opened today's action with a semi-final game in the consolation bracket at 12 noon. The winner moved into the finals and will tangle against the winner of the Indio and Valencia game for first place in the consolation bracket in the last day of the four-day tourney Saturday.

Top Teams In Annual BB Classic

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pairings released today for the third annual Basketball Classic, beginning Dec. 27 in the Sports Arena, put the nation's top-rated college basketball team, Ohio State, against Washington in the first round.

The four-day tourney, co-hosted by Southern California and UCLA, includes three other teams ranked in the top ten of United Press International's weekly basketball ratings — fifth-ranked USC, sixth-ranked West Virginia and ninth-ranked Purdue.

Besides Washington, also in the Classic are Utah, ranked No. 11 in the UPI poll, Army and UCLA. Pairings released by the USC athletic department for the first-round games on Dec. 27 are: USC vs. Purdue, UCLA vs. Army, West Virginia vs. Utah, Ohio State vs. Washington.

Four games will be held the first two days of the Classic, two in the afternoon and two in the evening. The third and final round of games will be split, with the games for third and fifth place set for Friday night, Dec. 29, and the games for the championship and seventh place for Dec. 30.

Defending champion is the University of Iowa, not entered in this year's Classic.

AFL Coaches Pick Oilers To Win Title

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — It'll be Houston over San Diego in Sunday's American Football League championship game if coaches of the other AFL teams are worth their salt as forecasters.

Three of the six also-ran AFL team coaches called the game a tossup, but the other three rated Houston the favorite, in terms summed up by Dallas Texan coach Hank Stram: "Houston has the balance — they're almost as good defensively and far better offensively."

Stram was joined by coaches Buster Ramsey of Buffalo and Sammy Baugh of New York in predicting an Oilers victory, in a poll taken by the AFL headquarters office. Stram said the game at San Diego probably would turn into a high-scoring affair.

They got disagreement from coaches Mike Holovak of Boston, Frank Filchok of Denver and Marty Feldman of Oakland, all of whom said the two teams are too equal to predict the outcome.

West Gridders to Watch Defense

By SCOTT BAILLIE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Dan Devine, one of the collar-ad coaches who is masterminding the West's shrine team, makes no bones about the fact that the squad must concentrate on defense when it faces the East on Dec. 30.

"I don't think that we'll have the ball all the time," the dapper Missouri strategist said wryly Thursday while introducing some of the West gridders at the game's annual kickoff luncheon.

And so Devine would continue "...next is Chuck Lamson of Wyoming who is a good offensive and defensive back... Hank Rivera of Oregon State, a fine defensive and offensive back... Ed Pine of Utah, a fine defensive center..."

FIRST SET BACK

Shockers Paste 60-48 Defeat on Santa Clara

By United Press International

A cold second half brought defeat to Santa Clara for the first time this year Thursday night at Wichita.

The Broncos, operating without forwards Gene Shields and Joe Weiss, moved out in front of the once-beaten Shockers and the halftime score was 28-28.

But the Broncos hit but 21 per cent of their shots in the second half and wound up on the short end of a 60-48 score.

The 6-foot-8 Shields and 6-foot-7 Weiss have the flu and stayed home and the Broncos were unable to dominate board play. Ron McGee led the losers with 12 points.

The West Coast tries to grab some intercollegiate wins tonight as tough Stanford hosts St. Louis and not-so-tough California meets Nebraska. Southern California is at Wyoming and UCLA meets Houston.

Other West Coast teams also wiped out in foreign gyms Thursday night.

Utah State won its eighth straight with a 77-64 romp over Pacific although Ken Stanley and Leo Middleton each hit 20 for the Tigers. Utah State will host the Trojans Saturday night in a rugged battle.

New Mexico bounced San Jose State, 63-51, although the Spartans were nip-and-tuck until the very end when New Mexico surged ahead.

Joe Braun led the Spartans

Ladies PGA Sets Tour Schedule

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The Ladies Professional Golf Association today announced a tentative 13-tournament schedule for the first six months of 1962 that will carry over $100,000 in total prize money.

Norm Cash of Detroit, the league's batting champion, was runnerup in slugging with .662, followed by Jim Gentile of Baltimore with .646, Maris with .620, and Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota with .606.

Bill Beek, the former Southern Methodist coach who is also on Jim Owens' West staff, added, "The East's backs look bigger than their linemen! We're going to need such players as tackle Frank Buncom (220 pounds) and Guy Reese (240) and Max Christian (230)."

Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue and the East staff had introduced Northwestern's Fate Echols as "the midget of our squad at 251 pounds."

"Midget?" echoed Babe Hollingbery, who was the West's head coach for 19 games. "Echols told me during this morning's visit to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children that he can go up to 275."

Notre Dame's Joe Kuharich, the rugged-looking coach of an East squad that looked somewhat more formidable than the West's, said with a straight face that the weights weren't always correct as given on the rosters.

"Bob Ferguson, for instance, told me that he is only 215 pounds, not 230," Kuharich said of Ohio State's mighty fullback.

Winners in Shadow Mt Tennis Meet

In spite of the uncooperative weatherman, there was a good-sized "faintly blue-tinged" crowd on hand to view the finals of the Shadow Mountain Club two-day Member - Guest Invitational Tennis Tournament.

Out of the 42 experts of the court who vied for the merchandise prizes awarded by Mrs. Cliff Henderson and Magda Rurac, Shadow Mountain Club Pro, the winners walked away with their "just rewards."

Winners in the men's doubles were Chuck Jandreou and Cliff Myll, who defeated Cliff Henderson and Dick Leach, 6-4, 6-3. On the women's doubles, Dodo Cheney and Francesca Bramwell knocked off May Smith and Joyce Myll, 6-3, 6-2. In a very exciting match, Bill Young and Lois Snow edged Al Linnick and Francesca Bramwell, 8-6, 9-11, 14-12 to win the mixed doubles.

During the first day of action, in the men's doubles, Chuck Jandreou and Cliff Myll defeated Mike Franks and Dick Elwood, 8-6 and Dick Leach and Cliff Henderson closed out Bill Young and Ned Kalmor, 8-5.

In the women's doubles, May Smith and Joyce Myll beat Mousie Powell and Margie Jackson, 8-4 and "Dodo" Cheney and Francesca Bramwell defeated Lois Snow and Helen Teaze, 8-2.

Al Linnick and Francesca Bramwell defeated Mike Franks and Hazel Kundry, 8-4, as Bill Young and Lois Snow downed Cliff Myll and Nancy Kiner, 8-3 in the mixed doubles.

Paul Pender, Terry Downs Rematched

Boston boxing promoter Sam Silverman announced Thursday the 15-round title match would be held April 7 at Boston Garden.

The proposed bout would be the third between the two.

A SHERRYFUL TALE
NEW YORK (UPI) — The name "sherry" is a derivation of Jerez, a place producing much sherry.

When Sir Francis Drake first brought sherry from Spain to England, the English saw the name j-e-r-e-z burnt into the casks and called the wine "jerries." In time the word was softened into sherry.

South Pacific Room Opens With Polynesian Flavor

With tiki torches lighting the way, the South Pacific Room of El Mirador Hotel made its seasonal debut for the ninth consecutive year.

The well-filled room overlooking El Mirador's swimming pool took on the heady flavor of Polynesia as Timmy Ainau and his Hawaiian Serenaders mounted the bandstand and waited the romantic rhythms of the islands audience-ward.

A little after 9 o'clock, and again at midnight, Ainau brought his dynamic stars, Evalani and Prince Kawohi, front and center.

Evalani, a strikingly beautiful Samoan native, electrified the audience with her Tahitian hula. Its gyrations makes the twist look as tame as the Tango by comparison. Prince Kawohi, former Harry Owens singing and dancing star, captivated the audience with his comedy dancing and vocalizing a segment devoted to free hula lessons to all comers.

The bountiful hula dancing put everybody in a dancing mood and the floor was packed with dancing couples. The dancing contributed to zestful appetites, which were satisfyingly appeased by the famed Cantonese dishes of Chef Jimmy Lee.

Expert Help To Springs Teachers

Mrs. Mildred B. Morrison, research associate of the Harvard-Carnegie Reading Study, Harvard University School of Education, conducted interview on reading instruction here with Palm Springs school district teachers and administrators.

The Palm Springs study was one of 52 schools or districts in the nation conducted in cities with populations of 10,000 or more.

Mrs. Mary Mitchell, district curriculum director, and Mrs. Marjorie Harnage, teacher assisting in curriculum, recently completed a pilot study of the elementary reading program with Dr. Malcolm Douglass, consultant of the Claremont Graduate School, and Mrs. Barbara Provost, county school office aide. The study will be used in formulation of a comprehensive guide for teaching of reading in elementary grades. The guide is dedicated to the late Miss Rachel Nommensen, who served as a primary instructor here 11 years, and was active in the reading instruction program.

Mrs. Morrison, the co-author of several books on reading, has served as a teacher and principal in schools including the University of Wisconsin.

The origin of windmills is not known. Some historians believe Asians first learned how to convert wind into mechanical power, and that Crusaders brought the invention back to Europe.

MOSAIC SET IN IVORY is this beautifully sculptured sea gull, which is being admired by, from left, Mrs. Lester Selig, Mrs. Dick Edwards and her husband, and

Mrs. John Kenaston. It is the work of Sculptor Emile Norman, whose exhibit is currently being shown here at the Palette Club Gallery. (Desert Sun Photo)

Sculpture Show Opens Gallery

Gold and Silver
Bronze and Ivory
Used in Statues

Silver and gold, bronze and brass, marble and wood statues, many with intricate mosaic detail, and all the work of the talented sculptor Emile Norman, drew a crowd of two hundred or more to the first exhibit held in the Palette Club's new gallery on Santa Catalina Road.

Fascinated by the fluid lines and the beauty of the work, the guests clustered around the statuary, stroking the smoothness of the ivory bird, inlaid with delicately detailed mosaic, and admiring the sheer simplicity and grandeur of the little Italian thrush done in silver.

Largest and most magnificent of the pieces on display is his 44 inch high "Horse" in ebony and benin, that is a museum piece and another impressive art object is the marble eagle inlaid with red stucco, and a swooping gull in flight is of gray hardwood, ebony benin and imbaya.

The artist makes use of natural wood tones, the mellowness of old ivory and the sleek and glowing metals, along with flowing curves unsurpassed by nature herself.

In the impressed and impressive list of visitors, who signed the guest register opening night, were: Senator Warren Magnusson, Alice Faye Harris, Dorothy Gray Brown, the Gar Moores, Richard Bagdasarians, Freeman Gossens, Carl Lesermans, Phil Regans, Bill Leeb, Joseph Shapiro, Mmes. Charles Farrell, William Perlberg, Joe Hall, William Powell, Dolph Obergf, Leo Spitz, Jolie Gabor, John Kenaston.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Helen and Earl Henderson will take over the Racquet Club dining room and the Mural Room this evening when they entertain, as they did last year, at a cocktail and dinner dance, with over 100 guests expected to attend. The party will be honoring Helen's sister and brother-in-law, the Bayard Bowdens of Los Gatos, who are here for the holidays. Also honored will be the George Ratcliffes of Honolulu and Pasadena, who are also houseguests of the Hendersons, and who returned from the Islands especially for the party.

Paula and Bob Blythe are also entertaining tonight at an elaborate party at their Tamarisk Country Club home. Bob, who flew back from New York for the party, is in the movie industry and a member of stellar names are on the extensive guest list.

The Christmas Day party, which the Manasses and Browns are co-hosting in their neighboring Fairway Cottages, will be an afternoon affair, with guests which will run into the early evening, with guests arriving in relays. Among the early arrivals will be Santa himself, who will be driving up in a golf cart around 3 p.m.

Boca Raton, Fla. is getting quite a colony of former Villagers, and among the recent additions are Rebyl and G. K. Zain, who spend their summers in Hendersonville, North Carolina and their winters in Boca Raton. Rebyl was one of the originators of the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild during their years here.

Among other former Villagers in Boca Raton are Frankie and Oliver Jaynes and Edna and Ward Revid, who are partners again and publish the newspaper there.

The Zains, who are the developers of the Miracle Mile in Coral Gables, were honored by a bronze plaque, when they moved their winter home from that city to Boca Raton. The plaque, which pictures both of them, reads "In Tribute To George and Rebyl Zain, From Whose Faith, Enthusiasm and Leadership Emerged The Miracle Mile."

In 1945 the Miracle Mile was largely vacant property, but Zain visioned a landscaped shopping center and, when parking proved inadequate, devised a leasing system now known nationally as the Zain system. The property is leased to the city, which paves the lots, pays taxes, and installs parking meters, with the city and the owner sharing the parking meter returns.

This development of Miracle Mile, often described as "the most beautiful business street" in the world, is all the more remarkable as Zain has been blind since 1945, with Rebyl serving as his eyes. It's the history of this kind of thing, that wonderful Miracle Mile was known as "Zain's Folly" when it started.

Mark Kramer's Christmas card from Denver says that he expects to be here during the holidays.

Despite what the caption said under her recent picture, Kay (Mrs. Dolph) Obergfel will be here for Christmas and while Dolph is going to Hawaii in February, she has just about decided not to go this time.

Rena Spears, who is back from Israel and visiting her daughter in New York City, says she expects to be out here in Palm Springs sometime in January.

She writes that she loves her life in Israel and works hard in a voluntary job with the Zionists Organization of America and has a pleasant social life, as well.

Stork Shower at Tierra del Sol

On the gift table, a stork was nestled in an arrangement of pink and yellow rose buds, when Mrs. Robert Howard Jr. was honored with a stork shower, hosted by Mrs. John Garvin in her Tierra del Sol home.

Mrs. Janice Doud poured at the tea table that was clothed in the season's red, and centered with a large red bell and gold candelabra. Here, guests helped themselves to mints, nuts, and petits fours.

Present to honor the mother-to-be were: Mmes. Janice Doud, Jim Pike, Larry Smith, Al Kaiser, Ron Yerger, John Saldivar, Paul Renn, John Williams, Robert Spencer, Lois Huntoon, Thelma Thompson, Robert Higgins and Jack Zevel.

Also there were Mrs. Howard's mother, Mrs. Byron Hillen, and her sister, Miss Mary Jane Hillen.

Festive Mood Pervades the CHS Party

The spirit of Christmas was evidenced by the beautifully decorated Christmas tree, the gaily wrapped gifts, and the tea table done Santa-style, when the Children's Home Society held its annual Christmas Party at the Prescott Drive home of Mrs. Glenn Austin.

During a brief business meeting, Mrs. John Michelson, president, announced the appointment of Mrs. George Anderson to represent the Auxiliary at the monthly board meetings of the Family Counseling Agency, held in Indio.

A ceramic bank, in the shape of a jeweled purse, was displayed by Mrs. Robert Doman, birthday and memorial chairman, and will be circulated monthly for birthday donations.

Mrs. Tom Brown accepted reservations for the Society's table at the fashion show - luncheon, to be held at Shadow Mountain Club on Jan. 18 by the Palm Desert Women's Club.

Following the meeting and exchange of gifts, members adjourned to Tennis Club for luncheon.

Present at the annual affair were: Mmes. James Mitchell, John Moon, Joseph Lamb, Al Kaiser, Allison Hamilton, James Schlecht, Frank Gaudiello, JR. Wahlberg, Willis Rellafor, H. B. Olsen, John Jacobs, Dorothy Lynch, J. Allen Slone and John Sanborn.

When the Society meets on Jan. 25, it will tour the Children's Home Society's facilities in Riverside and will meet for luncheon at the Mission Inn.

Mistletoe and Pine Cones Add To Party's Fun

Mistletoe and pine cones were in abundance and a kissing ball hung from the ceiling, when the Sorooptimist Club held its Christmas party at Holiday Inn.

After being introduced by Polly Isenagie, president, Viola Lukawicki related the story of "Silent Night" to the 30 members and guests present. The traditional holiday song, said Viola, was first performed on the guitar.

By the arrangement of Tess Potter, program chairman, nine freshman students from Palm Springs High School, with Kathy Shephard leading, sang several Christmas selections and closed with a special arrangement of "White Christmas." The Junior Double Trio also performed.

Guests at the party were: Margaret Lindenstein, scholarship awardee; Georgia Corporon, Kathe Knaak, Vera Langston and Louise Purnell. Next meeting will be held at Holiday Inn on Dec. 26 at 12:15 p.m.

Susan Strebe Is Bride of William Kellum Porter III

Carrying a spray of white orchids, Susan Strebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle C. Strebe, and William Kellum Porter III, exchanged their wedding vows before Canon Frederick Stevens of La Jolla and Rev. Frederick Barnhill, pastor of St. Paul's.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown of champagne peau de soie with finger tip veil and long gloves for the evening ceremony. The gown and veil were made by Delphine Verbort, Belgian fashion designer.

Attending her as maid of honor was Lindsay Day Porter, and bridesmaids were Dorothy Strebe, Marianne Banning and Margaret Hartley of La Jolla, Josephine Knight Jackson of Corpus Christi, Texas. The bride attendants wore short gowns of coral, red and gold swirled silk, with pink elbow-length gloves, and carried long-stemmed American Beauty roses.

Gary Miller was ring bearer. Serving as best man was Bill Toney of San Francisco. Ushers were: Robert Clements of San Diego, Henry Brown of New York, George Loris of Mass., Philip Miller of Palm Springs and Robert Richardson of Del Mar.

The bride's schools included The Bishops School at La Jolla, Finch College in New York and Mills College in Oakland.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kellum Porter II of La Jolla, attended Brown and Nichols in Boston and Columbia University.

Following a honeymoon in the Southern California mountains, the couple will reside in Palm Springs, where he is in a managerial position at the Doll House.

Students Home For Christmas

Home from Lawton School for the holidays, is Lynn Howard, daughter of the Eddy Howards of El Dorado Palms.

Recent Lawton graduates, who will be with their families on Christmas, are Judi Simon, daughter of the Harold Simons of Airline Drive, and Jeanne Stuart, daughter of the Sam Stuarts of Via Sol.

If you need tea-time sandwiches in a hurry, slice still frozen nut, date or banana bread in paper-thin slices. While the slices are still frozen, the butter goes on evenly and the bread doesn't tear.

A PINEAPPLE DRINK for two is enjoyed by Estelle Longwill and Willie Martello at Aloha Jhoe's. The pair dined at the unique and exotic Polynesian restaurant designed by movie Academy Award winner Lyle R. Wheeler. ### Turkey Roasting Rules Are Given by Home Economist

"How long do I roast my turkey?" is one of the most frequently asked questions at this time of year.

This, of course, varies with the size of the bird, says Mrs. Betty Fletcher, senior home economist for the Southern California Gas Company.

The home economist suggests that the times recommended by the California Turkey Advisory Board be followed for roasting turkeys in gas ranges:

Four to six pound turkeys should be roasted at 325 degrees for two to two and one-half hours; six to eight pound turkeys, two and one-half to three hours at 325 degrees; eight to twelve pounds, three to three and one-half hours at 325 degrees; and twelve to sixteen pounds, three and one-half to four hours at 325 degrees.

Sixteen to 20 pound birds require four to four and one-half hours roasting at 300 degrees, and twenty to twenty-two pounders, four and one-half to five hours at 300 degrees.

The home economist also offers some helpful suggestions for the preparation of your holiday turkey. Stuff the turkey just before placing it in the oven, allowing three-quarters to one cup stuffing per pound ready-to-cook weight. First, stuff the wishbone cavity and skewer the neck skin to the back. Tuck the wing tips behind the shoulder joints, then rub the cavity with salt.

Spoon in the stuffing, then shake the bird to settle the stuffing, but do not pack. Close the opening by placing skewers across it, and lace shut with a cord. Tie the drumsticks securely to the tail.

If the opening has a band of skin across it, push the drumsticks beneath it, and you won't need to fasten the opening or tie the legs.

Place turkey on rack in shallow roasting pan, breast up or down. When the turkey is about two-thirds done, cut the cord of band of skin so that heat can reach the inside of the thighs.

About 20 minutes before the roasting time is up, test the doneness by pressing the thick part of the drumstick between your fingers, protecting your hand with a paper towel. The meat should feel very soft. Also move the drumstick up and down — if done, it should move easily or twist out of joint. (If you use a meat thermometer, it should register 185-190 degrees.)

When the turkey is done, remove it from the pan and keep it warm while you make gravy from the pan drippings. For easier and neater carving, let the turkey stand for 20 minutes.

TV in Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—TV went on a marriage-saving kick Wednesday night.

On "Wagon Train," it was wagonmaster Chris Hale who served as the marriage counselor. He whispered a few pertinent comments into the ear of guest star Bette Davis and helped her to realize that the marriages of her three children were all about to break up because of her presence and interference.

"Battle of Hearts," on CBS-TV's "Armstrong Circle Theater," was one "actual" that steered clear of extremes and averages and sought mature treatment of its story. The script, by Alvin Boretz, showed the uglier side of the marriage relationship between George and Lela Davis — no relation to Bette — who, after a dozen years, had just about had it with each other. Their young one, of course, was the chief victim of their constant battles.

The script made Mrs. Davis' decision to seek professional help entirely natural. It also treated the ups and downs of the meetings with a laudable natural feeling. Mr. Davis, however, resisted the idea of family counseling. I thought this aspect of the script—the man's negative attitude—gave the hour additional dramatic values and another degree of honesty. Just think how maudlin things would have been if they had started practicing togetherness in the counselor's office. There was none of that in this show.

Arthur Hill, as the thin-skinned hubby, got his performance into focus during the second act and did a fine job the rest of the way. Consistently effective were Lydia Bruce as Mrs. Davis, Clarice Blackburn as the sensitive, experienced caseworker, and Luke Halpin as the boy.

"The Bettina May Story" on NBC-TV's "Wagon Train" was a better-than-average hour.

As Miss Davis butted into the affairs of her married children, it was obvious that her take-charge attitude was causing divorce talk among the couples. For a while, it seemed the only happy ending would be a scene in which the westward-bound hub-

An Island of Peace in a Troubled World

Since this will be the final editorial expression before Christmas Day, perhaps it is proper today to forget for a moment the grim world conditions which prevail and turn our thoughts to the day which will be universally observed next Monday.

For Christmas and all that it means to mankind comes once again to the world. There is no land without Christmas, even where power-drunk individuals make it imperative that it be observed in secret. Each country has its own legends and customs but in all we find the Christmas greens, the sign of eternal hope.

In a world of bared teeth and rattling sabers, the traditions of Christmas, centuries old, are uppermost. The pagans originated many of the customs of civilization today. In the dim past they decorated their homes with greenery to celebrate the winter solstice and the coming of spring and new hope. The Christians later adopted the greenery as a symbol of everlasting life.

Whether palm leaves or fir boughs, whether in the warm countries or in the cold, they are the universal Christmas symbol.

The season we are celebrating has its roots in ancient rites and customs. Many of our traditions were adopted from these ancient rituals.

Holly, mistletoe and the Yule log are among these Christmas decorations which go far back. Mistletoe was cut by the Druids and given to the Saxons with a kiss. From this custom comes our Christmas kiss under the mistletoe for those bashful enough to need an excuse.

The Yule log originated in Sweden and was adopted by England and the United States. It was kept burning until the Twelfth Night, the anniversary of the visit of the Wise Men to the manger. Then is when all greens were burned.

The use of holly stems back to the childhood days of Jesus. Martin Luther is credited with first lighting up the Christmas tree. Our Christmas observance has been universal for more than 1900 years.

And again we are in the midst of another Christmas season. For the past few days and during the next two, our time will be devoted mostly to the season which should be glad, wrapping gifts, sending Christmas greetings, Christmas parties, with the air in many homes filled with the fragrance of baking fruit cakes.

World conditions may be grim. Armed men are locked in conflict in many lands. Those countries not engaged in an actual shooting war are tense in the midst of a cold war. Moves and counter moves, any of which could ignite another terrible world-wide war, are flashing across the front pages of our newspapers. The lay man is bewildered by the rapid succession of events which threaten to engulf him. There seems to be no peace anywhere.

But there IS an island of peace in these strife-torn times. Thoughts of men the world over, men of good will, turn this season to the Prince of Peace.

The holiday festivities, the traditional decorations and customs are a surcease from the troubled times. But back of them lies the hope of the world, the true spirit of Christmas — the heralding of the birthday of the Christ Child.

Ike and Mamie Get the Red Carpet

The Desert Empire is host today to most distinguished guests and The Desert Sun wishes to join in the welcome accorded Ike and Mamie, who have settled in to spend several weeks in the beneficial climate of this desert resort area in the home built for them at Eldorado Country Club.

The sojourn of former president, Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower marks their third trip to this place in the sun.

It is another proof of the claim sounded by the men who pioneered The Desert Sun 35 years ago. At that time they boldly claimed: The Foremost Newspaper in the Foremost Winter Desert Resort. Both claims still hold true, probably even more so today. But this is not a boost for this newspaper. It is a boost for the territory it serves so well.

Our famed guests are here again because they like the Desert Empire. Like our other visitors, the desert has an especial attraction. Not only the climate but the healthful exercise, time for relaxation and time for Ike's favorite pastime, golf. Being the nation's top amateur golfer, he comes to the Winter Golf Capital of the World for his game. What could be more logical?

Reports are current and have not yet been denied that Harry S. Truman, another of our distinguished citizens, another former president of the world's greatest country, (no matter what Nikita K. thinks,) is coming to the Desert Empire.

If and when he does, it will mean that two-thirds of our Number One citizens are our guests. That speaks well for Palm Springs and the surrounding desert terrain.

Now if Herbert Hoover, the third remaining living ex-president would drop in on us, we'd be 100 per cent with men who have held the most important job in the world.

But, in the meantime, until Harry gets here and if Herbie should, a hearty welcome to Ike.

Sen. Tower's Conservation Covenant

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Senator John Tower, a man both good-looking and good-humored, is also a well-tempered conservative in contrast to some who are ill-tempered and also untempered in the sense of being immature of intellect and scholarship.

It is understandable that an honest rightist should be driven by unfair and impolite attacks to make hot retorts, or should be driven by the lunacy of the Left to some positions of irrationality at the outer extreme. It is understandable, that is, but undesirable.

Everything about Tower now becomes important because he has proved to be a natural leader. He opens his first Congressional session next month with an 8-point legislative program which this reporter has the honor to unveil. As soon as the Senator can politely get the floor without offending senior Republicans, he will lay out a blueprint which could and should be the covenant for conservatives throughout the 87th and 88th Congresses and on to the 1964 presidential campaign as follows:

1. Reintroduction of legislation governing questions of the effect of Acts of Congress upon State Laws. A similar bill by Rep. Howard Smith and Senator McClellan passed the House in 1958, but missed passing the Senate by a 40-41 vote. It was then opposed by the Justice Department because the States' Rights principle of preemption was retroactive and would have required an enormous amount of recodification by Justice lawyers. Tower, illustrating his well-tempered nature, has removed this retroactive feature. His bill should be widely acceptable, possibly, to the degree of being veto-proof. In 1958 Sen. Kennedy opposed the Smith-McClellan bill.

2. Comprehensive tax bill. Instead of tilting at a windmill by trying to abolish the Federal Income Tax, Tower is being conservatively conservative by proposing a reduction in the scale of taxation.

3. Compulsory national debt reduction. I have no details here, but I understand that Tower will ask that a small percentage of each balanced budget be applied to cutting down the debt.

4. A farm bill. Aiming at eventual market-control of production and prices, Tower will begin this year by seeking lower price supports and higher acreage allotment.

5. A trade policy. This point is vague, as yet, but the Senator returned from Europe this recess with the idea that the Common Market is good for Europe, but not yet a proved benefit to American's domestic prosperity.

6. Removal of governmental competition with private business. The subject is very large, and it probably will be approached by a resolution asking for a committee study on the scale of a McClellan investigation.

7. Union anti-trust legislation. For years this has been a "can't be done" item—but Tower is conservatively shooting for a limited objective. Instead of trying to outlaw Labor union monopoly of the Labor supply, or to outlaw elimination of competition in Labor supply, Tower will confine his legislation to products rather than people. For example, some glazier unions today will not install pre-glazed window sashes. This is certainly a restraint of trade. It would be so considered were it not for some outmoded court decisions. Tower will try for an anti-trust law to forbid unions from restricting competition in such products as pre-glazed window sashes. Such a law would admittedly be very narrow. But the principle of anti-trust procedure against Labor unions would be very broad.

8. A foreign policy. The key word here is "victory." Tower will demand an end to the No Win Against Russia policy. He probably will call for a resolution which finds that the "sense of Congress" is for total victory over World Communism. Coexistence and "peace" (as Communist use the term) won't do.

Senator Tower is too sophisticated to expect his program to gallop through a Democratic Congress next month.

"We cannot attract Democratic votes by compromising our conservative convictions," Tower told a Los Angeles Republican banquet last month. "The Democratic votes that come our way are conservative votes. When we compromise, we lose the conservative Democratic vote, and we disenchant our own people."

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

My last chance today
So I will not tarry
In voicing the wish
Your Christmas be Merry.

The way the dates hit the 1961 calendar, this is my last pre-Christmas effort. So, although three days early, let me wish every last one of you a Merry Christmas.

THIS YEAR my usual Yuletide labor-saving plan will not work. Many, many years ago I stumbled on to a system whereby at Christmas time (New Year's Day, too) I could wind up the year goofing off to the extent of some 600 words.

Instead of feeding one of these things through the typewriter, hooking together about 600 words in more or less orderly sequence, I just persuaded the composing room to use some big type and run Merry Christmas up and down, vertical instead of horizontal, and fill up the entire 13 inches a kind management allots me daily except Saturdays, Sundays and certain designated holidays.

YOU HAVE NO IDEA of the labor saved by that method or the time it afforded the typewriter to cool off.

But my conscience, although a bit shabby after all of these years, just wouldn't let me duck out of this task three days ahead of time. There's a limit to everything, you know. That's why I'm making like work today. But just wait until 1962. Christmas comes on a Tuesday and I'll sluff off on Monday as in the past.

I'm getting tired already. Just happened to think that a similar situation prevails next week.

CHRISTMAS isn't what it used to be. Some of you can recall the days when mom kept the kids out of the parlor while the old man struck matches and lighted all of the candles.

Then the kids boomed in and for once they weren't told to modulate their voices. Mom and dad hovered around to see that nobody bumped a candle into a danger spot.

After the kids had scattered their gifts all over the house, the old man puffed and puffed to put out the candles for the next time.

NOW, ELECTRIC BULBS have taken over. No more lighting and blowing out candles. Just unscrewing all of the bulbs, one at a time, to find out which is the burned-out one.

And the danger of starting the new year with a fire because the Christmas tree needles have dried, is absent. Only thing now is that after four or five years, the electric cord becomes slightly frayed.

A condition which insurance companies frown upon.

JUST LIKE the Fourth of July, Christmas has become safe and sane. Except for the kids, of course. But it's still the biggest holiday of the year. So, MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary and I resent the implication that just because my boss takes me to lunch three and four times a week there must be some funny business going on between us.

He takes me to lunch because it is his way of showing me that he appreciates a good secretary. We might even have a cocktail or two before we eat and I see nothing wrong with it. It has come back to me that there is talk in this office, and his wife has even asked the other girls questions about me. I wish you'd tell me just what two people could do between 12 and 1 in a crowded restaurant. — LUCKY MISS BROWN

DEAR LUCKY: They could make plans to meet after 5 where it isn't so crowded.

DEAR ABBY: I can't stand my husband when he is drunk and he can't stand me when he is sober. What should we do?

I am a nervous wreck. After being married for 14 years we have nothing in common. We do have five children, but you would think I found them in a cabbage patch for all the help he gives me with them. The only affection I ever get from him is when he has liquor on his breath, and that is when I would like to run a mile. What is a woman supposed to do in a situation of this kind. —HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: It is difficult to tell whether your husband is miserable because he's drinking or drinking because he's miserable. Catch him when he's sober and ask him to lay his cards on the table. Ignoring a poor relationship only makes it worse. It's time for some plain sober conversation. Start it!

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor got my 19-year-old daughter interested in corresponding with her (the neighbor's) 22-year-old "nephew" by showing her his picture. After writing back and forth for 8 months a big romance bloomed. Now it turns out that this young man is not really her nephew, but the son of her best friend. She never told us that this fellow has had a nervous breakdown which has required psychiatric treatment off and on for years. His hobby is writing and my neighbor excuses it all by saying she thought it would be "good" for him to have a pen pal. In other words, she used my daughter as someone for him to write to. He is coming to this city soon. My daughter wants to meet him, knowing all about his background. We are against it. We'd like your opinion. —HER PARENTS

DEAREST of your neighbor to have withheld this revealing information about the man. Don't condemn him for having had psychiatric treatment. His mental state could now be better than that of others who need treatment but never have had it. If your daughter, knowing his history, wants to meet him, don't interfere.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

(New York Times)

The Supreme Court has left standing a decision of our New York courts that George Lincoln Rockwell cannot be denied a permit to speak in Union Square. We applaud this position of the Court, though we have nothing but contempt for Rockwell and the so-called "American Nazi party" which he leads. Free speech is free speech. Denying the right to it in one case, however obnoxious the protagonist, endangers the principle itself.

In the present case the New York Appellate Division had ruled (and the Court of Appeals had unanimously affirmed) that "there is no power in Government under our Constitution to exercise prior restraint of the expression of views unless it is demonstrated on a record that such expression will immediately and irreparably create injury to the public weal."

A sound principle well stated. Rockwell, sounding off in Union Square could do no damage to the public weal, considering how discredited is the cause he leads and how shabby are his pretensions.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Duke's Museum Houses Many Historic Pieces

This is the last of a series of articles written by famed reporter Bob Considine on the basis of a visit with the Duke and Duchess of Windsor on the 25th anniversary of Windsor's abdication as King Edward VIII of England.

THE WINDSORS SPEAK—25 YEARS AFTER

PARIS—The Duke of Windsor, 25 years out of office as King of England and all the titles affixed thereto, came loping across the cobbled court of his nearby country place, dogs under foot, white pigeons fanning past his bare head. He wore a long red woolen bathrobe, which was just as well. It was raining.

"Halloooo," he said, looking into the upper portion of the split door of a former cowshed. "Anybody home?"

"Only us cows," his guest said. "You haven't seen the barn," he said.

The dogs, pigeons and I followed him across the yard to a low-slung stone building which, like the rest of Moulin de la Tuilerie, dates from the 1600's. The Duke, dogs and I entered. The pigeons had other plans.

"I call it my museum," he said of the room.

It is just that, a quick look around showed. There is enough memorabilia in it to fill a wing of the British Museum, and only on regarding it did I understand the concern the Duchess had expressed the night before about the "security" of the estate.

"A lot of 'what might have been' is here, the irreplaceable trappings of a life on which he turned his back for historically sentimental reasons.

Historical Table

"This table might interest you," the Duke said in his pleasant way. The beautifully made table held framed photographs of some of his illustrious forebears, a great tongue of jade combed from some forgotten voyage, and a neat little gold sign on which was engraved:

"On this table King Edward VIII signed the instrument of abdication 10:30 a.m. December 11, 1936."

If the Duke attached any emotional importance to the object his cheerful face masked it. He touched off the kindling and paper beneath the fireplace.

The Duke peeled off his robe and sat down in a deep chair near his breakfast tray. He wore a high-necked baby blue sweater, fawn-colored slacks with thin blue lines forming large squares, and buff and green woolen socks, the latter a gift, he said, from the Dick Berlins.

I asked him about the huge map that covered most of the wall over the fireplace. It is a detailed map of the British Isles with long lists of catalogue-type numerals in the waters around the isles.

"Extraordinary thing at that," the Duke said, looking up at it as he buttered a bit of toast. "It was done by an old chap in Commons. With footnotes to explain the numerals, it would have pinpointed all the places where I had appeared officially as Prince of Wales. The Times was going to print it on the day of my coronation. And, well, there wasn't any coronation."

I asked him about the abdication speech of a quarter of a century ago, that superbly phrased and so touchingly delivered declaration of the heart. Was it true that Winston Churchill had come to Fort Belvedere that day to say goodbye?

"I told him I planned to go on the radio that night with a statement, and had prepared it. Old Winston said, 'I'd like to see what you have to say.' Naturally I showed it to him. I think that if anybody was to make a speech of that moment, of that importance, and you had old Winston in your house and didn't ask him to look it over, well, that person should have his head examined. He made a few suggestions. He was always dramatic, the old man."

I had read that the parting from his mother, Queen Mary, was tearful.

"Really?" he asked, surprised. "The only nice thing, human thing, my mother said to me during that time when I was fighting a very lonely battle was, 'Isn't it a pity it'll be so long before you see her again.'"

The reference was to the then prevalent six-month period of cloister during divorce proceedings.

"It was a strange age," he said, lighting up the first of many pipes for the day. "My lawyer told me that if I even stayed in the same country with Wallis during that period he would retire as my counsel."

A pleasant tuncion followed, with talk as varied as those opposite poles of conversation, psychiatry and the Peppermint Lounge, New York's Twist joint. The Duchess appeared determined to avoid the former, like a scourge and look in on the latter when the Windsors return to New York in April.

"You have to be rich to go in for psychiatry," she observed as she studied the small neatly written menu near the plate, the better to describe the oncoming dish. "Or lonely," Majorie Wilson suggested.

"A good friend to talk to is the best thing," the Duchess said quietly. "There is nothing better than that."

The Duke nodded. The little room was somehow suddenly hushed, almost as if Majorie Wilson and I were unwitting intruders.

The mood was still there as the Duke walked to the car that would take me back to Paris.

I had one more question. The Duchess had said, the night before, "He should've given me up. It would have been so much easier on him." I asked him about that.

"She lost out in that argument," the Duke of Windsor said with steady pride. "I won."

★ Fabulous South Palm Canyon ★

This office is proud to announce the finalizing of a multi-million dollar contract to handle the sale of "PALM SPRINGS SOUTH" located on SOUTH PALM CANYON DRIVE, only four miles from PALM SPRINGS PROPER.

This project consists of approximately 5,505.04 acres which will be Southern California's only year-around residential-recreational resort offering the wild artistry and natural year-around facilities of both the mountains and desert. Only minutes away from downtown PALM SPRINGS, this acreage embraces some of the southlands most exclusive and magnificent desert and mountain terrain.

PALM SPRINGS SOUTH ranks first in desirability in desert subdivision, principally because the lot or home owner here receives all the benefits of a healthful climate without the extreme of heat found in the desert in the summer.

The topography of the property consists mainly of rolling hills, coupled with rugged terrain, most of which is expected to be left in its natural state. Elevations of the property range from a low of approximately 2,000 feet to a high of 3,600 feet above mean sea level. The greater portions of the property lie at elevations between 2,000 and 2,800 feet above mean sea level. Because of its elevation of some 1,600 to 2,400 feet above Palm Springs proper, this area is cooler by an estimated 10 to 20 degrees throughout the year than is the desert floor. This pleasant weather in the summer months should be a strong attraction not only for area visitors but for permanent residents.

We can deliver this property for $300 per acre and will consider a trade on a slightly higher figure.

Economy Sees Strong Business Advances

By EDWARD COWAN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Is it a boom?

That was what economists wondered about the strong business advances scored in October and November.

Government experts hesitated to say flatly that a boom has developed. They conceded the lusty performance of the economy of the past two months may have been the beginning of one.

"It is still too early to tell," one official said.

The view among President Kennedy's own advisers was that business has rebounded handsomely from its late summer lull and possibly is exceeding even their optimistic forecasts.

Some Sore Spots

The White House aides pointed out, however, that the economy is operating about $30 billion below capacity and that unemployment is still fairly high—6.1 per cent of the labor force in November.

Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges said personal income climbed by $3.8 billion in November, a big rise for one month. It reached a record annual rate of $429 billion with the aid of an even bigger advance of $4.1 billion in October.

Hodges said corporate profits reached an annual rate of $47 billion before taxes in July, August and September, and estimated they are now approaching a $50 record $51.5 billion reached in the spring of 1959.

Corporate profits have climbed from a low of $39.6 billion in the first three months of this year.

Hodges said consumers have grown less worried about the international situation with the easing of the Berlin crisis and are spending more freely.

But he pointed out that with unemployment in November still more than 6 per cent of the labor force, "we haven't licked all of our problems by any means."

But compared with a year ago, sales were up nearly 15 per cent and orders 20 per cent, he said. Factory sales of hard goods increased 3 per cent in November to a record annual rate, seasonally adjusted, of $15.8 billion, and new orders went up 1 per cent to a new high of $16.2 billion.

SANTA CLAUS (C. Ronald Ellis, district governor) records the voices of children at the annual Christmas Party of the Palm Springs Rotary Club. Talking to Santa is Mary Brecklin. The boy at right is Billy Bunker. Santa Ron says he has talked with 1,200 children since Dec. 16.

Little Ford Cheaper Than Volks

DETROIT (UPI) — The Ford Motor co., with most development work completed, is expected to introduce its new small Cardinal automobile next summer as a 1963 model if the foreign economy class market doesn't take a sudden slump.

Market research analysis for Ford are keeping close tabs on the sale of small imports. On their reports will hinge the decision whether to produce the Cardinal in this country.

Ford is trying to avoid making the same mistake twice. It was burned in 1957 when it introduced the now defunct Edsel just before the bottom fell out of the medium price car market.

If buying habits should shift again to larger cars Ford is expected to put the Cardinal project in mothballs as far as this country is concerned.

But the betting is the car will be introduced and will probably sell for about $1,550, slightly less than the German Volkswagen.

From all that can be determined without driving the car and seeing the specifications, it appears the Cardinal will be slightly larger and carry a somewhat peppier engine than the VW.

If Your Child Is Born Today,

It will be necessary that you early curb any tendency toward over-emotionalism so that the life can be a successful one, since the imagination and mind are fine and many fine opportunities will present themselves throughout the years. Be sure the diet is right and give the benefit of good spiritual training, and send your progeny to college if you possibly can. The arts and music are best here.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) —It would be wise to follow the suggestions of close ties, since by so doing you increase security and do not gamble unwisely. Work diligently and with enthusiasm. Tonight is then fine for relaxation at home, enjoying family.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20) —A good day to handle business affairs in town, getting last-minute shopping done, getting records in order. Then get together with good friends in the evening for a happy and carefree time, as befits the season. Be gay.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21) —Important you put monetary affairs in order now and impress higher-ups favorably with your good, practical sense. Get all improved. Start putting up decorations at home in P.M. and see that all is scrupulously clean.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21) —Anything that has been puzzling you can now be cleared up easily and you can carry through with whatever plans need to be put into operation. But take the time to get out in the evening for relaxation and fun you like best.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21) —A day to sit back and study conditions and individuals objectively and plan how best they can fit into your life. Follow your hunches, which are good, especially in any strictly personal matters. Do some studying in P.M.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) —You are able to have a very fine time in the evening, provided you first contact during the day those individuals who can help you attain your cherished aims. Be with those companions you most enjoy. Meet charming new people, too.
